Engineering Work Goes On, After Project Gets Approval

Engineering work on the vast sewer extension project, which received overwhelming approval at the special town meeting Aug. 14, is rushing forward this week.

Camp, Dresser and McKee, consulting engineers for the job, must meet a tight schedule to get complete plans ready and out to bid in approximately 90 days, or perhaps less. Joseph Lawlor, representing the firm, has said two shifts will be needed in the firm's Boston office, but that the deadline will be met.

Overwhelming Approval

The proposed sewers, which will be a year or more in construction, were approved by 697 voters at the special meeting, with only 142 opposed.

By vote of the meeting, $25,000 will be transferred from free cash and a bond issue of $855,000 will be sold. The government will give $839,500 towards the $1,719,000 construction job.

Some 1,060 voters attended the session - more than attend some annual town meetings.

Small Support

Only one serious attempt to amend the article via deletions was recorded. Sidney P. White proposed eliminating Rennie dr., Strawberry Hill rd., Argilla rd., Andover st. and Dascomb rd.

His amendment received scant support when it came to a standing vote, to the point that no count was actually taken of those supporting or disapproving the amendment.

Officials in Favor

At the outset of the meeting, Water-Sewer Supt. Donald Bassett outlined the project and Town Manager Thomas E. Duff explained the betterment procedures involved in this project, including the $4.65 per front foot assessment.

Herbert Ortstein of the Capital Expenditures Committee voiced that group's approval of the project and Finance Committee Chairman

Andover Rider In N.E. Finals

Glen Mathieson, 53 Harold Parker rd. has become the 13th rider to qualify for the New England Equitation championships to be held next month.

The Andover rider qualified by virtue of winning firsts in the North Shore horse show at Lynnfield and the North Leominster horse show at North Leominster. This competition and ride-off is held annually among riders under 18, and is judged on equitation, which is the skill of riding, and does not involve the quality of the horse.

Trials are being held at 70 selected horse shows throughout New England. Children who win two first places or one first place and two seconds in these trials, are eligible to compete in the finals being held at the 1747 Farm Horse Show on Sept. 14 and 15, in Weston.

VOTERS THANKED BY TAXPAYERS

Where Did Betterment Assessments Come From?

How did the town ever get involved in betterment assessments?

That seems to be one of the questions most frequently asked, as a by-product of the current discussion of sewer extensions.

Actually, our forefathers devised the plan, and received special legislative approval for the payment of sewer betterments. The acts of 1897 established the payment of this fee - based on a one-quarter - three-quarters ratio. Thus for years the town paid one-fourth of the cost of sewers and the property owners paid three-fourths via the betterment route.

It was in the late 1950's that the proportion changed - a fact that, in itself, is saving property owners money today.

Town meeting adopted a one-third - two-thirds payment plan, on recommendation of Camp, Dresser and McKee and with the urging of the Board of Public Works.

By so doing, a betterment rate of $9.10 per front foot of property was established - this would have been $10.23 under the old schedule. And on what is the rate based?

It is two-thirds of the total cost of all sewer construction - proposed in the master plan of 1957 and common sewers that probably will be built in the year 2,000 - divided by the number of assessable frontage feet.

The engineers estimate sewer construction costs of $6,173,400 in their report of 1957, and add future common sewers for the year 2,000 valued at $1,000,000. Thus the total projected cost of sewer construction covered in the report is $7,173,400.

After deducting the one-third town share, the balance is divided by 525,090 frontage feet - and the answer is $9.10 per foot.

Formula Used

Actually, the betterment assessment is not literally based on a front-foot basis alone. But the complications that would result from itemizing the assessment each time it is mentioned result in tagging the frontage with the entire cost.

In detail, the charge on normal betterment assessments of $9.10 break down into $4.10 per front foot plus 100 square feet of the lot at five cents a foot.

In all assessments, under the law, the charge can not be greater than the benefit derived from the installation of the sewage.

Court's Decision In Property Case

To have compelled an Andover man to sell his property after he changed his mind would be inequitable, Judge Thomas J. O'Malley ruled in Essex superior court at Salem last week in a decision on a local property case.

Judge O'Malley ruled in favor of Joseph Charles Sweeney in a suit brought by Charles W. and Helen J. West, 70 Morton st. The latter couple sought to have the court order Sweeney to convey the property to them for $10,500 as agreed last August.

At that time, Sweeney was renovating the one-family house into a two-family house when West asked him if he wanted to sell the premises. Sweeney and his wife, Patricia L., agreed and the sale was contingent on a variance being obtained from the board of appeals which would divide the 1.19 acre plot into two lots.

Sweeney testified when the board of appeals had not taken action on the variance by Nov. 1, the termination date of the sale, he began to work again on his house. The petitioners sought to extend the termination date. Sweeney's wife agreed, the court was told.

It was testified during the court hearing in June that Sweeney and his wife were living apart last November. Sweeney denied there was any disagreement with her about the disposition of the money from the sale of the house.

Judge O'Malley dismissed the bill of specific performance without costs and ordered Sweeney to return the $500 deposit to the other couple.

A question you won't find answered on any quiz show is what exactly is a virus? In some respects it is a living organism, in others it is a pure chemical. Perhaps we might then argue with some logic that a virus is a living chemical.

At any rate, they are infinitely small; the head of a pin easily holds 25 million polio viruses, and they have the faculty of self-duplication.

Some schools of thought maintain that the first living things to appear on earth many millions of years ago were very similar to the viruses we know today. From these living chemicals sprang other and more complicated forms of life.

Re-seeding this fall?

There are two kinds of grasses — annual and perennial. The two are often mixed in the box. The annual seeds come up fast, look fine. But they soon die out leaving ugly bare spots in a lawn. Perennial seeds come up a little more slowly, grow into healthy turf you can enjoy year after year.

It's so easy to protect yourself. Plant only Scott's Seed. It's all perennial — and 99.9% weed-free.

Right now's the time to start a lawn program. We have everything you need including Scott's Seed, easy-to-apply Turf Builder, and the accurate Scott's Spreader. We're at your service.

County Maple Tree Troubles

Maple trees have shown signs of decline throughout Essex County. This is not directly attributable to a disease or pest at this time. This means that no one fungus, bacterium, virus or insect can be blamed as the cause for these trees dying, thinning out at the top, or even showing some cankers near the base.

There have been many ideas advanced as to the cause of this problem. Some say it may be environmental factors such as shorter winter rest periods, lower water tables, or increased soil temperatures. Others say it is by virtue of the location of the trees themselves such as in the middle of a sea of concrete, tar and stone causing a decided increase in soil temperature as well as retardation of water supply to the root system.

Scorch, trunk injury and just plain lack of moisture have taken its toll over a several year period on these street trees. Many insects, borers, gall makers, scales and general feeders all contribute to this so called "affliction" the street maple seems to be suffering from. In the opinion of consulted experts this combination of things is what is wrong with our maple trees.

With the hurricane season upon us now would be a good time for homeowners to check the condition of trees on their property. ## County Maple Tree Troubles

Maple trees have shown signs of decline throughout Essex County. This is not directly attributable to a disease or pest at this time. This means that no one fungus, bacterium, virus or insect can be blamed as the cause for these trees dying, thinning out at the top, or even showing some cankers near the base.

There have been many ideas advanced as to the cause of this problem. Some say it may be environmental factors such as shorter winter rest periods, lower water tables, or increased soil temperatures. Others say it is by virtue of the location of the trees themselves such as in the middle of a sea of concrete, tar and stone causing a decided increase in soil temperature as well as retardation of water supply to the root system. Scorch, trunk injury and just plain lack of moisture has taken its toll over a several year period on these street trees. Many insects, borers, gall makers, scales and general feeders all contribute to this so called "affliction" the street maple seems to be suffering from. In the opinion of consulted experts this combination of things is what is wrong with our maple trees.

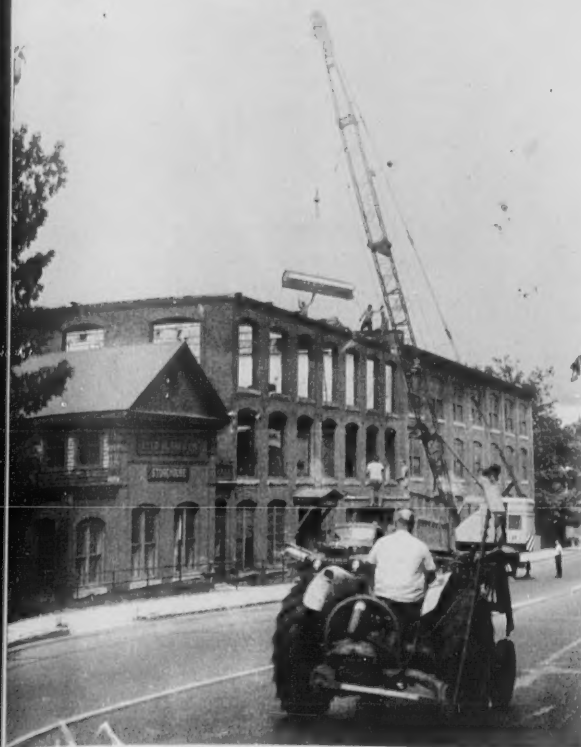

With the hurricane season upon us now would be a good time for homeowners to check the condition of trees on their property. An excellent bulletin entitled "Pruning Shade Trees and Repairing their Injuries" is available free on request. ## What Our Readers Say—

To the Editor of the Townsman:
"I was deeply shocked at the tenor of the town meeting Wednesday evening. Yes, I'm one of the minority who voted for both of the amendments and against the question itself. I'm not sore about the defeat. That's democracy, to take either defeat or victory. What I am hurt about is that Andover appears to have reached a point where the voters are unwilling to hear both sides of the question.

"A person making an amendment with the idea of lessening the burden on some of the abutters was only laughed at. A person making an amendment to do away with federal aid was only laughed at when he spoke of the dwindling national gold supply although even Washington recognizes that as one of our most serious problems.

"When the amendments had been defeated and when there then should have been a thorough two sided discussion of the article itself, there was such a clamor for 'Question! Question!' that the moderator was practically forced into having the vote taken immediately on a project involving over a million and a half dollars without one moment of real discussion on the original article. There were several phases that should have been brought out by the opposition before the vote was taken but the voters did not seem willing to hear them.

"Incidentally, I wonder if Brad Morse might not have been rather proud of his constituents if Andover had had the courage to turn down a ride on the gravy train!"

Miss Gladys A. Hill
4 Marion Ave.

To the Editor of the Townsman:
"When it was first proposed that we hold a special town meeting in mid-August, the situation looked grim.

"Special meetings in the past had been poorly attended. Sewers are buried things, lacking visual appeal. And August was the worst possible month.

"But several things happened to take the grimness out of the situation.

"Both our newspapers did a fine job of pre-meeting reporting. Town officials communicated to the public. The League distributed fact sheets and posters. The Taxpayers Association mailed material to all voters, ran ads, used the telephone.

"As a result of all this, an alerted and civic-minded citizenry responded in numbers that must have astonished everyone.

"The moral: Communicate an important issue effectively in the kind of town in which we live and voter apathy vanishes.

"That, in part, is why many of us like to live here."

Best Took Part In Swift Strike

Army Pvt. David S. Best, son of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Best, 4 Argyle st., took part in Exercise Swift Strike III, a U. S. Strike Command exercise in Georgia and North and South Carolina, involving more than 75,000 armed forces personnel.

Swift Strike III pitted two task forces against each other in a four-week mock war, which ended Aug. 16. It included airborne maneuvers, long-distance airlifts, air-ground support missions and counter guerrilla operations.

Best, regularly assigned to Company B of the 101st Airborne Division's 2d Battle Group, 187th Infantry at Fort Campbell, Ky., entered the Army in September of 1962 and received basic training at Fort Dix, N. J.

The 24-year-old soldier was graduated from Pynchard High School in 1957 and received his Bachelor of Science degree in Education from The Citadel, Charleston, S. C., in 1962.

VOTERS FAVOR

Norman Barraclough repeated the FinCom's recommendation for acceptance.

John N. Cole, chairman of the Planning Board, reported that the Board had voted to support the proposal, as being within the master plan for the town.

Health Board Chairman Robert Walsh joined the town officials in recommending acceptance - he pointed out the health problems in the involved areas and said he hoped that the long-drawn-out debates over Rogers Brook in years gone by would be avoided, when acting on the sewer.

Hearts And Flowers

Mr. White, proposing the deletion of some streets, answered a resident's question about his personal financial involvement by saying that he has about 6-7,000 feet of frontage and some acreage involved. But, he said, his thinking was for the rest of the town and what is best for all the people along the path of the sewer.

He referred to the fact that he owns enough land for 100 house lots and commented "I can take care of myself".

"I feel for the people in so many areas, who say they don't want the sewer and can't afford it", he continued.

At that point, one unidentified voter rose and suggested: "While the orchestra plays hearts and flowers, let's get an objective report on what the amendment does to the plan, and not to one individual".

Mr. Duff told the gathering that deletion of Andover st. and Dacombs rd., particularly, takes the heart out of the proposal. This was the reason for its withdrawal at the annual meeting, he explained.

Now In Favor

Paul Herbert of Rennie dr. then told the meeting that he supports the sewer - but he noted that he was very much opposed to it last March. He urged rejection of the amendment, so that the residents of Rennie dr., Strawberry Hill rd. and Argilla rd., who want the sewer, can have it.

He said many residents, formerly opposed, have decided that in five or six years, repairs to septic systems could cost a lot more than the betterment and related assessments.

Mr. White insisted that he had no objection to the Andover st. section but said he believed the other sections "imposed a hardship" on the property owners. He charged that full and complete costs had not been presented.

He also notified the voters of many projects he believes are coming up soon, in the out-fall sewer, the regional treatment plant and others. "I don't want to put a fear in your 'mind'", he then told the gathering. Scattered laughter met the statement.

Joseph Lawlor re-emphasized the necessity for keeping trunk lines intact, and noted that the amendment deleted sections of trunks, so that others could not sensibly be installed.

Just before the amendment went to a vote, one warm voter rose and told the moderator he didn't wish to be facetious, but "we're generating a lot of hot air here", and asked to have windows and doors opened for ventilation.

Second Amendment

After the un-counted standing vote on Mr. White's motion, Arthur Neumark of Elm st. rose to amend the article by deleting authorization to accept federal aid. He wanted the town's appropriation to be used as far as it would go, without the federal grant. He based his argument on the size of the federal debt, and charged that the government is giving money to Andover, which it does not actually have.

A smaller number of voters supported that amendment, which also came on a standing vote, but was uncounted.

During that discussion, Taxpayers Association Richard Moody explained that, although his Association did not previously support accepting federal aid, it now supported the specific sewer article and the grant that went with it.

Betterment Cost

Residents who will be charged betterment assessments may make the payments in a lump sum or spread it out over a number of years - up to 20 - and pay interest at the rate of four percent.

Based on a betterment assessment of $4.65 per frontage foot, abutters with 150 feet of frontage on the sewer line will be assessed $697.50.

According to Water and Sewer Supt. Donald Bassett, the majority of residents affected by the sewer line have 150 feet of frontage in Zone B, which is the classification for a single-residence dwelling area.

Abutters with a frontage exceeding 150 feet will be assessed on the basis of 180 feet maximum, if the building code limits the lot to one residence. The betterment assessment for 180 feet frontage is $837.

Corner lots will be assessed on the basis of 200 feet maximum for a single-home lot. This assessment amounts to $930.

Abutters with a 300-foot frontage will be assessed $1,395 and abutters with 400-foot frontage will be assessed $1,860.

According to Assessor William Russell, the assessment on land affected by the sewer line will be increased $5 per frontage foot. This $5 per foot figure reduces as the frontage of land increases over 150 feet. A resident with 150 feet of frontage, the average, will have the assessed valuation of his land increased by $750. This is in addition to the betterment assessment.

Payment of the betterment assessment will begin in 1964. The Town Treasurer, will send annually to those who delay payment of the betterment assessment, a statement of their charges and interest.

Andover Soldier Races Up Mountain In Alaska

Charles Wetmore Kellogg, 23, 59 Phillips st., a '62 graduate of Williams College who is now serving in Alaska with the U. S. Army was a participant this summer in the famed Seward Mountain marathon.

The Andover youth, who is attached to the Army's Biathlon Unit at Fort Richardson, Alaska, carried his unit's colors in the race in which there were 49 contestants, and for the first time three girl competitors.

Kellogg finished in eighth position with a time of 53 minutes, 15 seconds, well under the historic one hour mark.

The Mt. Marathon race is a big event in Seward, Alaska, on July 4th. It has an interesting background dating back to 1915 when two sourdoughs got into an argument.

The argument centered around one miner's contention that it was possible to climb and descend nearby 3022-foot Mt. Marathon in less than an hour. Ridiculous, said the other.

So a race was scheduled for July 4th, and it has been restaged every year since, drawing hundreds of spectators to this community on the shores of Resurrection Bay. Contestants have come from almost every state, from Sweden, Norway, and other distant points.

It is a grueling, dangerous course for the runners, racing at breakneck speed down the city streets, up the slopes of thorn-strewn gulleys, across steep rocky Bluffs, through soft shale patches, and over hard shale outcroppings. In spite of the danger - or possibly because of it - the race continues to attract sportsmen from all over the U. S.

The argument back in 1915? Well, the first sourdough lost. The winning racer took an hour and two minutes to run the course. But in the years to follow, the old timer's judgment proved true many times. In 1963 in fact, a record of 48 minutes, 37.8 seconds was set by Swedish born, U. S. Biathlon team member, Karl Bohlin.

In this year's race 49 contestants ran. Three men broke Sven Johanson's 1959 record of 50 minutes, 48.2 seconds. For the first time three girls competed and all three completed the race in good time. The first girl to finish was Jane Trigg, with a time of 97 minutes, 08 seconds.

EDITORIAL THOUGHTS

Special Responsibility

The special committee of 19, studying the town manager charter, have a special responsibility to fulfill, and it should not be taken lightly.

They must, if their study is to be accepted as an objective report, refrain from witch hunting.

There has been some evidence that the town manager may be the principal target for some on the Committee. And if this proves true, the validity of the study may be in serious doubt because of the personal relationships that would be entwined.

Chairman Harris Sanfilippo called the shots properly, when he reminded the Committee that it is supposed to be studying the charter and how it is functioning — not the competency of any town employee. Committee members must hue to a fine line, as they delve into departmental functions, to avoid the personalities and the judgments on individual ability. If error is made, it should be on the side of caution, so that nowhere is there a tinge of suspicion that an individual has been singled out as a target.

This must be carefully remembered, and remain as a constant guide, as Committee members proceed. For there is grave concern in many sections of the community that the sought-after objectivity is missing from some members' minds.

Well Founded View

Credit is due to Arthur Neumark of Elm st., who urged the special town meeting to avoid accepting federal aid, for espousing a principle in the face of sure defeat.

His viewpoint — that taking federal grants should be opposed because of the staggering national debt, and the continual increase in federal spending — is well founded.

Thousands of voters would undoubtedly support this position, if rejecting the grant would truly mean a reduction in federal spending. This it would not do.

Mr. Neumark knew he was fighting for a lost cause; it's nice to know that there are still men of individuality who will propose unpopular procedures because they think it is right to do so.

Too many men and women shun their responsibility in order to retain their popularity.

Great Response

The 1,060 voters who attended town meeting Aug. 14 proved the experts to be wrong — and they have earned the gratitude and congratulations of us all.

The number of voters in attendance at the mid-August session exceeded the number attending the annual meeting, in some years, and certainly made the worriers — those who thought even a 350 quorum would be difficult to attain — look bad.

It proves that voters are vitally interested and do not shirk their duty, when they are called upon to assemble for vitally important decisions.

All of those who took part in telephone and mail campaigns to alert the voters to the issues at hand, deserve congratulations for the effort they spent.

All in all, we think this was one of the most striking examples of community interest and participation that it has been our pleasure to see.

To all who assembled at the meeting, a rousing vote of thanks.

Down the Years with The Townsman

75 Years Ago — August, 1888
Saturday last, Chief Cheever seized at Shawsheen Grove a quantity of ale belonging to a Lawrence man who was brought before Justice Poor on Tuesday. He was convicted of illegal keeping and fined $50 and costs.

Warren E. Draper has contributed $25,000 to the Abbot Academy building fund.

At a meeting of the trustees of Abbot Academy Tuesday, the contract for the first of the new buildings was let out to Hardy and Cole. By vote of the Board, this building will be known as Draper Hall.

Wednesday night the cows in the cricket field went off for a ramble and walked down the tracks toward the depot. Officer Howarth saw them and tried to head them off but they eluded him. Later they were seen marching through the Village, and milling around near the old Cogswell House.

The Rev. William G. Poor returns to Kansas the early part of next week.

50 Years Ago — August, 1913

Frank E. Dodge and family of Park st. are staying at Plum Island.

The fire department was called Saturday to extinguish a blaze in the rear of what was formerly the Wonderland Theatre. A fire sale was in progress at the time.

Bernard McDonald, of the local post office force, is enjoying his annual vacation at Old Orchard Beach.

Miss Minnie Sugart has returned to her work in the local office of the Gas Co., after a vacation spent at Bustin's Island, Me.

Miss Lillian Holt, formerly of this town but now of Los Angeles, Cal., has been spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. William Cheever.

The state will give $13,150 to the town, as part of the unemployment bill, signed by the governor. The funds come from the state highway department. Local officials have not decided which projects to do.

Some of the Board of Public Works part-time employees are asking for more work. They claim some employees get more days than others.

The contest for governor, usually just a race between men more or less unknown here, takes on added importance, Fred Butler of Lowell st., long-time county commissioner, is in the race for the Republican nomination, against Leverett Saltonstall and Richard Leverett. There's a lot of work being done locally for both Butler and Saltonstall.

It appears that removing the rails from Main st. may be too expensive a job. The street railway company probably would yank the rails out of the street with their special machinery, but the town would have to remove the blocks, then replace them when the task is done.

10 Years Ago — August, 1953

William J. Igoe was elected assistant football coach by the School Committee at its meeting Tuesday night.

Plans and specifications for the sewage treatment plant and some mains, in Ballardvale, are nearly complete. Bids will be called as soon as the plans are ready.

The public parking area in the rear of the Shaw property on Main st. is now ready for use.

Over 2,800 men and women toured the Tey Rubber Co.'s new plant Saturday in a special open house.

Various local official and civic organizations, alerted to the danger of leaving abandoned ice boxes around, are conducting a campaign to find and make safe all such potential death traps. Eleven children have been reported killed, during the last few weeks, by being trapped in an ice box.

Peace Corps Placement Examination Saturday

The post office on Broadway, Lawrence, will be one of the more than 800 federal facilities and college campuses where non-competitive examinations will be held Saturday for Peace Corps placements. Andover residents desiring to join the agency will take their examinations in Lawrence.

The test is non-competitive. As its name implies, it enables the Peace Corps to place prospective Volunteers in an appropriate overseas situation. Everyone interested in becoming a Peace Corps Volunteer must take the test - in addition to filling out a Peace Corps Questionnaire.

The Aug. 24 testing date will be the last general opportunity to take the Peace Corps Placement Test until Oct. 19.

Those selected for training will spend from 10 to 12 weeks on a college campus which may include four weeks at a Peace Corps camp in Puerto Rico. The training programs include an intensive study of the language of the host country, its history customs and culture, American affairs, world political problems, health problems in tropical conditions, etc.

Volunteers agree to serve two years in the Peace Corps, including training time. The minimum age for Volunteer service is 18, with no upper age limit, and a number of persons in their seventies are among the 6000 Volunteers now serving in 46 nations.

Married couples may serve if they have no dependents and if both husband and wife qualify for the same project.

Language training is helpful for those interested in becoming Volunteers, but more than a fourth of the Peace Corps' present Volunteers never had studied a language previously.

Liberal arts graduates and others with a "general" education have performed so well in teaching and community development programs that the Peace Corps is seeking more persons with this type of background.

The Peace Corps also has requests for persons with skills in agriculture, public health, forestry, carpentry and other building skills, social work and education of all types and at all levels. Other nations have asked the Peace Corps to provide Volunteers possessing more than 200 job skills. A college degree is not required.

The Peace Corps pays all of a Volunteer's expenses and furnishes administrative support to him abroad. The Volunteer receives, at the completion of his service, a readjustment allowance of $75 for each month of satisfactory service.

The placement test consists of a half-hour section on general aptitude and another of the same

Mansfield College History Described By Mr. Bradford

The Rev. J. Allyn Bradford, pastor of the Free Church, who is currently studying under noted theologians at Mansfield College, England, has written the following letter to Townsman readers, describing the country, his trip and his impressions of the college.

The letter reads:
"After a night flight across the Atlantic, we arrived in Shannon for a brief stop-over at dawn. Then we came into London at mid-morning. It was then just an hour's ride by train to Oxford.

"You might be interested in something about the place where I am staying. Most of the buildings of Oxford of course are centuries old; but this one was dedicated just last year. It is the new dormitory for residential students at Mansfield College. What it does have in common with the rest of Oxford architecture (besides gracious style) is how it reflects a significant trend in history. The reasons why these buildings were put up is of special interest to Congregationalists, who are identified here as "non-conformists".

"Amid centuries of tradition in this great community of learning, Mansfield College was founded by the "non-conformists" because they could not otherwise be accepted as students. (This is difficult for us, as Americans, to understand, but it was the situation.) Seventy years after it was founded, however, this college became a regular part of the University because the old barriers of the "Establishment" were weakening and became much less severe. The new dormitories represent the completion of this development, in which the "non-conformists" have been granted official recognition.

"Anyone at all familiar with British history will easily recognize what it meant on the day when the new dormitory buildings were dedicated to have the "royal colors" flying from the tower. "The principal proudly told us that the Queen Mother was present for the dedication ceremonies, and a handsome plaque has been placed by the entry-way to commemorate when she officially opened the buildings.

"Though there's much more to write about, I'll have to stop here because they're keeping us pretty busy. I'll save the rest 'till later. Meantime, my best wishes to everyone there."

In a postscript to the letter, Mr. Bradford noted: "The weather is damp and cold".

Monday evening the feature event was a Father and Son softball game which the sons won 7 to 6. The rules were slightly changed for the Fathers; they were required to walk not run, bat and throw their opposite hands.

Outstanding performances were turned in by Scottie Gerrish, Bobby Driscoll, Paul Broderick, Donnie Cochran, and Michael Murnane.

The staff at Ballardvale thanked all parents and children who assisted in making this year such a success.

Our total attendance to date is 792.

Andover Students Win Summer School Awards

Certificates were awarded Aug. 16 to 60 gifted high school students and eight high school teacher-interns by Very Rev. Vincent A. McQuade, O.S.A., Ph.D., president of Merrimack College, at closing exercises held at the conclusion of a six week summer science training program at Merrimack College. The summer science training program was made possible by a $19,000 grant received from the National Science Foundation.

The curriculum for the summer science program included pre-college instruction in Physics, Mathematics, Biology, Chemistry and History of Science. The program was set up to provide participating students with a firm foundation for transition to college level study and through participating teacher-interns improve the instructional process in the secondary schools.

Members of the Merrimack Valley Guidance Association co-operated with officials of Merrimack College in much of the advance planning that led to the award of the National Science Foundation grant. Approximately 1400 requests for applications for the science program were received from high school students from 45 states. Students who were selected for the program at Merrimack represented 25 different public and parochial school systems in the Merrimack Valley and the surrounding area.

The eight high school teacher-interns represent eight different school systems in the area. This was the first National Science Foundation summer program offered at Merrimack College. College officials have already submitted another proposal to the National Science Foundation with the hope that a similar, expanded program may be offered during the summer of 1964.

The student participants were boys and girls of demonstrated superior ability in the science areas embraced by the project. All the students who participated in the program have plans for entering college subsequent to graduating from high school and all received the recommendation of their high school teachers and administrators for participation in the program.

Students from Andover who attended the summer school were: Physics: Kathleen M. Dolan, 18 High Plain rd., Mary E. Essiambre, 76 Gould rd., Math: Arthur G. Lebreck, 3 High Plain rd., Judith A. LeGendre, 33 Washington ave., Biology: Marlene Briggs, 5 Shipman rd.

Youth Arrested In Auto Thefts

An Andover youth was ordered held for observation by the Lawrence District court Monday after he had been convicted of several charges.

Richard J. Dawes, 3rd, 21, 127 Summer st., had disposition on charges of unlawful use of automobiles, two counts, malicious damage to personal property, and larceny of a shotgun continued until Sept. 30 by Special Justice Augustine D. Riley.

The request for the continuance was made by Atty. H. Burton Hampton of Haverhill, counsel for Dawes, who urged that the youth be placed under observation.

Dawes pleaded not guilty to unlawful use of a car owned by Thomas O'Connell, 64 Ford way, Derry, N.H., which was taken from Pelham st., Methuen, Aug. 11, and Stephen Connell, 614 Elm st., Manchester, N.H., which was taken from the Heidelberg restaurant, Methuen, the same date, breaking windows in a car owned by David Monahan, 142 Farnham st., Lawrence; and larceny of a shotgun from a vehicle owned by Lucien Bibeau, 86 South Broadway, Lawrence.

Patrolman Joseph L. DiZoglio of the Lawrence police testified he went to Carver st., Lawrence to investigate a complaint a car had been damaged there. The owner reported he found bloody clothing and a shotgun in the automobile of which he had no knowledge.

Dawes was picked up nearby with a bleeding hand. He told the officer he was given a ride from a Manchester air base and while riding on Rt. 93 was given several drinks of brandy. Let out of the car on Pelham st., Methuen, he is alleged to have taken a car and gone to the Heidelberg where he took second car.

Meetings of the Littlest Listeners will be resumed in the Ballardvale Branch Library in October.
